About the Conference

International Conference on Language, Literature, and Humanities aims to bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and research scholars to exchange and share their experiences and research results on all aspects of Language, Literature, Culture, Humanities, Social Sciences and Education. Less research has focused, however, on the influence of the new technologies on this interface, which transcends borders and cultures, advanced visualization along with the process of translation adds additional dimensions to the already complex picture. As the technological landscape continues to evolve, ideas related through literature, other modes of artistic expression and language are part of that which is being researched through the Digital Humanities. Understanding culture, diversity and inclusion through technology and discussing ways to support the creative research being conducted adds even more unique complexity to our evolving conference themes. It aims to bring together leading academic scientists, researchers and research scholars to exchange and share their experiences and research results on all aspects of Language, Literature and Linguistics. It also provides a premier interdisciplinary platform for researchers, practitioners and educators to present and discuss the most recent innovations, trends, and concerns as well as practical challenges encountered and solutions adopted in the fields of Language, Literature and Linguistics.
